Ray Reid's April Vacation Soccer Clinic

(Grades K-8 co-ed)

Whether your child has never kicked a soccer ball or has been playing since they could walk, the April Vacation Soccer Clinic, developed by UConn Head Men's Soccer Coach Ray Reid, offers opportunities for all players to explore the game of soccer and develop skills in a camp-style approach that encourages fun and play. Younger participants are introduced to techniques through games and game-style drills, Older participants (typically grades 5-8) experience more focus on technique and game tactics, while still placing emphasis on fun. All participants will engage in warm-ups, demos, technical and tactical work, and soccer-game play. All participants receive a T-shirt. Players must bring their own soccer balls. Early registration is encouraged.
